

The Repairer of The Breach Ch 5

He knelt there with me for a long moment. Until everything He had done settled in my heart. He then took my hands in His and said “You have a perspective of how I repaired the breach. Tell Me what you see.” Tears welled up in my eyes as I answered “I still am amazed and humbled, Lord, that You would bend so far down into this place of my life—my heart—where heaven meets earth. Where I pray and worship and study and confess and am made more and more like You. That in this place of communion with You..You desire to know my thoughts even though You know all things.” He then looked deer into my eyes than He had previously and said a strange thing “It is the place of meeting on humble ground. Your station is sitting at the right hand side of The Father with Me. That is the anchor of your soul. But, your place is here. This is the place of living and moving and where your being is. It is where I am in you and you are in Me. Where the Love who is God is poured upon you, worked in and through you by The Holy Spirit. It is the place where the Threefold Ministry of the Threefold Mystery of the Triune God..God The Father, God The Son, and God The Holy Spirit meets your very own soul. He does His work. Works His way and will into and out of your life. A place where This Love is proof of the evidence to come.” With that He simply said “Tell Me what you see. How am I The Repairer of The Breach?”

I sat there for a quiet moment deciding how to explain what I saw. Then He and I brought the same word to the table at the exact same time “Simple”. Not always is there a joy that rises up, nor a confidence in what He wants me to show Him—but this time there was all of that in my reply “Ok, Lord”.

“As You hung on the cross You cried: “My God My God why have You forsaken Me?” This I see as the place of repairing the relationship breach between Adam and Eve...and all people...and God. A place where all sins were placed on You, and You paid the price. Where the wrath of God was satisfied and the way of communion was restored.

In this place You overcame the desire of the flesh (You did not take Yourself down from that cross), the desire of the eyes (You did not take revenge on those who mocked You—You saved the thief beside You), and the vain-glory of life (You cried out “it is finished” and committed Your spirit to The Father. You gave up Your mortal life so I could live forever).” With the gentle encouragement of folding my hands in His own He smiled and said “This is not all you see is it?” My reply came with a deep breath “No.

You met the original sin of Adam and Eve on the cross by Your death. You took the wrath of God so I could know His love. So I could be His child.

You proved You are King of all kings when You descended into Sheol and took the keys of death from Nechash. He no longer rules over hell, death and the grave. You rose from the grave proving You now rule over this earth.

You ascended into heaven to present Yourself as The Perfect Sacrifice to Your Father. You are now sat as God above all gods. Above all gods of the nations who accept worship from humans. Above all gods who sit in Your council as loyal servants.

But we still do not see all things under Your feet, Jesus. We are still walking out what is already been finished from the beginning of time. You are proving and showing and living out Who You Are through Your very own creation. You are showing the lesser gods You are The Most High God who rules and reigns over all things by saving and indwelling mere mortal men made of dust. That is what You have done. You have redeemed the lesser fallen vessels and placed Your own Spirit within them as a witness to those lesser elohim (lesser gods) who tried to usurp Your reign...That You alone are God, You alone are worthy of all honor, glory and praise. And You are returning to claim the prize You paid for. A people Your Father gave You to dwell with them on a renewed heaven and earth...a restored Eden...forever.”
